Daniel Can't Think Straight Due to College Algebra!

Nothing worth note happens in my neighborhood, so I thought the most interesting thing to lay down would be me!

" I would literally rather be doing anything other than taking this Algebra course right now " says Daniel, a disgruntled student struggling with algebra.

It all started 2 weeks ago, Monday, when Daniel thought it was strange that his algebra started that thursday rather than monday.

He pulled out his wrinkled schedule paper from under his desk and was very suprised to see that his class started in ten minutes! He still hasn't recovered from this terrible incident.
